Ms. Krystina's Weekly News

Week of November 9, 2020

We are looking forward to another great week at school! This week, we will expand on what we learned about the seasons by learning some more about the weather! Differences in the weather help us make decisions about our daily lives such as what to wear or what activities we might do for the day! We will also explore with some of the tools we might use to help us interpret the weather and make daily choices. Have a great week!

Sincerely,

Ms. Krystina, Ms. Shania &
Ms. Claudia
