November 15-November 19

Greetings Families! Fall is one of my favorite seasons. I love seeing the changes in color of the trees and grasses. Hardly Fall mums appear in flower gardens, I even like seeing the frost on the grass in the morning. Birds are starting to fly south for winter. When you see these things, point them out to the children. It develops their awareness of physical surroundings and nature in an otherwise very busy world. We will spend this week observing those changes when we go out to the playground and creating our own art interpretations of Fall colors and changes. I look forward to their creations.

PLEASE NOTE!! CHANGE IN DATE FOR PARENT’S WEBINAR!! Have a great week! As always, please contact me through Class Dojo if you have any questions or need to chat about anything.
